

MACAULAY-BROWN, INC.

30 CELEBRATING YEARS OF EXCELLENCE

Founded in 1979 as an Electronic Warfare company, MacB has grown to be the largest Defense contractor headquartered in the Dayton Area, and is listed among Dayton's fastest growing companies. MacB provides support for system engineering and integration, research and development, intelligence, information operations, acquisition management, information technology and security support. We're an integral part of the Wright-Patterson AFB community, serving customers at ASC, AFRL, and NASIC both on- and off-site.

Known as a great place to work, MacB proudly works with our customers to provide critical technical services to support our US fighting forces. Our culture is growth-focused and driven by the creativity of our technical staff, allowing us to find and retain an exceptionally talented workforce. This strong technical foundation is complemented by a supportive, streamlined, local management team that makes us an affordable choice for the highest-quality support. Find out more about MacB at our website, or stop by to see us.
